

COKALA

TAX INFORMATION REPORTING SOLUTIONS, LLC

Tax Technical Advisory Support Subscription

COKALA offers year-round advisory support service on a subscription basis. Your subscription also includes weekly electronic bulletins on new developments in federal and state tax reporting, and a year-end update for Form 1099 and 1042-S reporting presented by live webinar in October.

Tax technical support is provided in response to questions you, or other people you designate within your organization, send to COKALA. E-mail is the standard means through which we will reply to your queries, because it preserves the information that was exchanged, and permits the attachment of supporting documents where needed. Same-day response to e-mail queries is our standard, or next business day in some instances. You can also reach us by phone, if needed. The service covers payments that may be tax reportable on Form 1099, Form W-2, and Form 1042-S.

The subscription service is generally limited to questions for which tax technical responses can be provided in less than 30 minutes. If at any time we perceive that a question will require more extensive research and analysis of specific factual situations, we will advise you prior to beginning work on that question, in order to discuss whether you prefer to have the query handled on a project basis or to have us limit our response.

COKALA bases your subscription fee on the types of reportable transactions you process, and the volume of your tax information reporting. Please see below for your fee, or call COKALA at 734.396.9041 for your subscription fee quote.

With a COKALA subscription, we're there for you throughout the year, helping your organization avoid significant risk of tax penalties for noncompliance with withholding and reporting regulations. You can learn more about COKALA at www.cokala.com. We look forward to serving you.
